The Archdiocese of Moncton has raised more than $250,000 during a financial campaign held in each of its 57 parishes and missions of the diocese to help the people of Haiti, hit by a deadly and devastating earthquake in January.

The funds will be sent to Development and Peace, the official international development organization of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada, and, to respect the wishes of some parishes, to the Redemptorist Fathers for their work in Haiti.

These funds will be used for rescue operations and humanitarian assistance.

It should be noted that the Federal Government has committed itself to a contribution of dollar for dollar.
